Benefit Concert for WAIM, No Freeze Shelter, and the Covenant Soup Kitchen

On Saturday, August 4, Get the Led Out, a Led Zeppelin tribute band, will play at the new band shell, Shaboo Stage, on Jillson Square in Willimantic. In addition to this amazing day of music, there will be many food vendors and a beer and wine tent organized by the Willimantic Brewing Company! More information can be found and tickets can be purchased online at:

<https://tickets.beerfests.com/event/shabooreunion>

Volunteers are especially needed for the 8-11 pm shift to sell tickets and provide general information. Proceeds from the concert will benefit the Covenant Soup Kitchen, The No Freeze Project, and Windham Area Interfaith Ministry (WAIM). Please email Jane Schreiber at jane.schreiber@snet.net if you wish to help.

Last Sunday Offering for July

Collected today, the Last Sunday Offering for July will support WAIM's annual Steeple Chase Bike race. Monies raised will go to Perception Programs to help people affected by substance abuse and mental health issues. The No Freeze Shelter in Willimantic is also a beneficiary of this event. And there is a matching grant to support the Steeple Chase. For every dollar raised, the Ossen Family Foundation will match the gift. Your generosity is deeply appreciated.

Save the Date—Saturday, August 18

WAIM's Annual Steeple Chase Bike Tour benefitting WAIM's Perception Programs and the No Freeze Shelter will start at ECSU and there will be routes for 20, 35, 50, 62.5 and 100 mile rides. There is also a 5.6 walk. Something for everyone. For more information go to: steeplechasebiketour.org. Prizes for the 3 top fundraising groups.
